Convention of Political Leaders on MORALITY & SPIRITUALITY IN POLITICS - TOWARDS GOLDEN AGE

We are passing through times of abrupt change and extreme uncertainty. Anything can happen to anyone, anytime, anywhere.

The current state of the world is a reflection of our state of mind: our moral, ethical and spiritual foundations have become weak. Ego, lust, and greed have become deeply rooted in the human psyche, shaping an amoral culture driven by self-interest.

Now is the time to turn our attention to the moral, ethical, and spiritual dimensions of our life and strengthen them, as they form the foundation of a truly happy society. It is becoming increasingly clear that solutions to the problems of the world can be found only through elevated human consciousness, spiritual wisdom, and universal values.

Political leaders carry a nerous responsibility in this task. Apart from providing good governance, they have the larger duty of leading the fight against social evils that harm communities and the nation by destroying their moral fabric. Politicians can play this role successfully only if they have integrity, foresight, courage, and compassion.

These qualities arise from spiritual power, and Rajyoga meditation is the most effective tool for spiritual empowerment. Practice of Rajyoga creates a new outlook about the self, relationships, life, and our connection with God. That in turn brings a state of inner peace and stability which enables us to see the world with the right perspective and deal with it appropriately.

To enable politicians to learn about spiritual techniques for becoming more effective leaders, a Convention on 'Morality and Spirituality in Politics - Towards a Golden Age' has been organized at Brahma Kumaris, Shantivan – Anand Sarovar, Abu Road from 12 to 15 September 2025. Interested individuals may contact the nearest Brahma Kumaris centre for registration.

About the Organisers

The Brahma Kumaris Ishwariya Vishwa Vidyalyaya is a socio-spiritual institution founded in 1936 with its headquarters in Mount Abu. The institution has over 4500 associate centres throughout India and in 137 countries of the world.

It is an NGO of the United Nations and holds consultative status with ECOSOC and UNICEF. It believes that the crisis of character is the root cause of all other crises, which can be resolved by spiritual empowerment only. It works for positive change in society through a wide range of awareness programmes in Godly Knowledge, Rajyoga Meditation, Inner Values and Self Empowerment.

The Politicians' Service Wing of Rajyoga Education & Research Foundation is its sister organisation with similar aims and objectives. Part of the wing's objective is to encourage and support those politicians who are working from a set of principles that guard their integrity at each step. It is this aspect of values that has heretofore been missing in the political arena of recent times.
